New Member Relationships

To help the government fight the funding of terrorism, money laundering activities and identity theft, Federal law requires all financial institutions to obtain, verify, and record information that identifies each person, new to the institution, who opens an account.

What this means for you:

When you establish a new member relationship, we will ask for your name, address, date of birth, and other information that allows us to identify you. We may also ask to see your driver's license or other identifying documents.
